1 INTRODUCTION TO THE PROMOTION OF ACCESS TO INFORMATION ACT (PAIA)

1.1 On 9 March 2001 the Promotion of Access to Information Act “the Act” came into effect in terms of Proclamation No. R. 20, 2001. The Act seeks to advance a culture of transparency and accountability in both public and private bodies. The legislation was enacted as a direct response to Section 32 of the Constitution of South Africa, No.108 of 1996, with focus on the right of access to information, which requires that the Government implements laws in an effort to make information pertaining to public and private bodies more accessible to all. Section 32 of the Constitution of South Africa provides for the following:

1.1.1 Section 32 (1), where it is indicated that everyone has the right of access to:

(a) Any information held by the state.

(b) Any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights.

1.1.2 Section 32(2), where it is indicated that national legislation must be enacted to give effect to this right and may provide for reasonable measures to alleviate the administrative and financial burden on the State.

1.2 The Act therefore gives effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by the State and any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. Where a request is made in terms of the Act, the body (public and private) to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information may or must not be released.

1.3 One of the main requirements specified in the Act is the compilation of a Manual that provides information on both the types and categories of records held by the public or private body. In terms of the Act, Exponent (Pty) Ltd is regarded as a “private body” and therefore the requirements regarding access must be in compliance with the provisions of the Act relevant to private bodies. Adherence to these requirements entails not only compilation of the external manual but also compliance with the general provisions stated in the Act.

1.4 When the act was brought into operation on 9 March 2001 four of the Act’s sections were excluded namely:

- 1.4.1 Section 10: Requiring the Human Rights Commission to publish a Guide to support use of PAIA
- 1.4.2 Section 14: Requiring every public body to publish on its record systems and services.
- 1.4.3 Section 16: Requiring certain information to be published in telephone directories.
- 1.4.4 Section 51: Requiring every private body to publish a Manual on its records systems and services

On 15 February 2002 the above-mentioned four sections of the Act, with concomitant Regulations, were brought into operation.

7 GROUNDS REFUSAL OF ACCESS TO RECORDS IN TERMS OF SECTIONS 62 TO 69 OF THE ACT

Access to a record will or may be refused on one or more of the following grounds

- 7.1 Mandatory protection of the privacy of a third party who is a natural person, if such disclosure would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about a third party, including a deceased individual, subject to the provisions of section 63 (2).
- 7.2 Mandatory protection of the commercial information of a third party, if the record contains:
 - 7.2.1 Trade secrets of that party
 - 7.2.2 Financial, commercial, scientific or technical information which disclosure could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interest of that third party.
 - 7.2.3 Information disclosed in confidence by a third party, if the disclosure could put that third party at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
 - 7.2.4 Mandatory protection of confidential information of third parties if it is protected in terms of any agreement.
- 7.3 Mandatory protection of the safety of individuals and the protection of property, where such disclosure could endanger the life or physical safety of an individual, or prejudice or impair the security of:
 - 7.3.1 A building, structure or any system
 - 7.3.2 A means of transport, or
 - 7.3.3 Any other property
- 7.4 Mandatory protection of records, which would be regarded as privileged from production in legal proceedings.
- 7.5 Commercial information of private body, in that a request for access to a record may be refused if the record contains;

- 7.5.1 Trade secrets, financial, commercial, scientific or technical information of the institution, which disclosure, could likely cause harm to the financial or commercial interest of the institution.
 - 7.5.2 Information which, if disclosed could prejudice or put the institution at a disadvantage in negotiations or commercial competition.
 - 7.5.3 A computer program which is owned by the institution and which is protected by copyright.
- 7.6 Mandatory protection of research information of the institution. A request will be refused if this disclosure would disclose the identity of the institution, the researcher or the subject matter of the research and would place the researcher at a serious disadvantage.
- 7.7 Requests for information that are clearly frivolous or vexatious or which involved an unreasonable diversion of resources shall be refused.

8 HOW TO OBTAIN ACCESS TO RECORDS HELD BY Exponent

The steps below have been designed to ensure that requests for access to records of information held by Exponent is dealt with as quickly and efficiently as possible. These steps apply for an internal or external requester. A requester is defined as any person making a request for access to records of Exponent (Pty) Ltd. The requester must comply with all the requirements contained in the Act relating to the request for access to records.

8.1 Section 53 of the Act prescribes that the requester must use the prescribed form to make the request for access to a record. The requester must therefore complete the prescribed form "Request for access to record of private body Exponent (Pty) Ltd" enclosed herewith in Annexure-A and submit it to the Information Officer at the postal or physical or e-mail address or facsimile number as stated above. If the requester has not received an acknowledgement of receipt within 14 days, the Information Officer must be contacted to ensure that the request has been received. The following points must be remembered when completing the prescribed form:

- 8.1.1 Each section of the form contains instructions that should be followed to improve the likelihood of the request being granted.
- 8.1.2 If a request for records is made on behalf of another person, the requester must provide a copy of the mandate authorising the requester to act on behalf of that person.
- 8.1.3 The requester should provide, as detailed as possible, a description of the records that are requested to enable the Information Officer to respond correctly to the request for access to records of Exponent

If the requester experiencing difficulties in completing the request form due to illiteracy or disability the Information Officer could be contacted, where after special arrangements would be made (e.g. to make the request orally.)

8.2 It may be necessary to pay fees for access to records in terms of Act. The following type of fees are applicable:

- 8.2.1 Request fee, when access is requested to a record containing personal information about the requester. In this case the requester will not be required to pay the request fee. Any other request must be accompanied by the required request fee.
- 8.2.2 Access fee, which is payable when the request is granted for the reproduction of records and for time in excess of one hour to search and prepare the records for disclosure. Where the time to prepare the records for disclosure is likely to exceed six (6) hours, a deposit of one third of the anticipated access fee may be required as a deposit.

The fee structure is set by regulation and is reproduced in the enclosed Annexure B. The fees may be paid by cheque and drawn in favour of Exponent (Pty) Ltd. The Information Officer shall withhold the record until the requester has paid the required fees. If a deposit has been paid in respect of a request for access, which is refused, then the Information Officer would repay to the requester.

8.3 Exponent would process the request within thirty (30) days after the request has been received. The 30 day period within which the Information Officer has to decide whether to grant or refuse the request is for a vast amount of information, or the request requires a search for information held at another office of Exponent (Pty) Ltd and the information cannot reasonably be obtained within the original 30 day period. The company will notify the “requester” in writing should an extension be sought.

8.4 If the request is deemed to have been refused the requester would be notified accordingly. Access would be given to a record of information if:

8.4.1 The requester have complied with all the requirements in the Act relating to the request for access to that record, that is:

- a) The request is properly made on the prescribed form.
- b) The requester has provided proof of identity.
- c) The requester has furnished proof of authority to act on another person’s behalf, if the requester is not making the request on his/her own behalf.
- d) The requester has indicated which form of access is required (i.e. request fee or access fee).
- e) The requester has sufficiently described the record required to enable the Information Officer to identify it.
- f) The required fees have been paid.
- g) The requester’s contact details (e.g. postal address, telephone number, facsimile number and e-mail address).
- h) The requester must state that he/she requires the information to exercise or protect his/her right and clearly state what the nature of the right is to be exercised or protected. In addition, the requester must clearly specify why the records are necessary to exercise or protect such a right.

8.4.2 Access to the record is not refused on one or more grounds of refusal in the Act. The grounds for refusal in the Act fall into the following categories:

- a) Mandatory protection of privacy of a third party who is a natural person.
- b) Mandatory protection of certain records of Exponent (Pty) Ltd.
- c) Mandatory protection of commercial information of a third party.
- d) Mandatory protection of certain confidential information and protection of certain other confidential information, of a third party.
- e) Mandatory protection of safety of individuals, and protection of property.

- f) Mandatory protection of law enforcement and legal proceedings.
- g) Mandatory protection of records privileged from production in legal proceedings.
- h) Economic interests and financial welfare of Exponent .
- i) Mandatory protection of research information of a third party.
- j) Manifestly frivolous or vexatious requests or substantial and unreasonable diversion of resources.

8.5 If all reasonable steps have been taken to find a record requested and there are reasonable grounds for believing that the record is in the Exponent possession but cannot be found or does not exist, the Information Officer or Exponent must, by way of an affidavit or affirmation, notify the requester that it is not possible to provide access to the requested record. The affidavit or affirmation referred to must provide a full account of all steps taken to find the record in question or to determine whether the record exists, as the case may be, including communications with every person who conducted the search on behalf of the Information Officer. If after notice is given, the record in question is found, the requester must be given access thereto unless the ground for the refusal of access exists. If the request is declined for any reason the notice must include adequate reasons for the decision, together with the relevant provisions of the Act relied upon and provide the procedure to be followed should the requester wish to appeal to the decision.

9 REMEDIES AVAILABLE WHEN THE COMPANY REFUSES REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

9.1 Internal Remedies

9.1.1 Exponent does not have an internal appeal procedure, therefore the decision made by the Information Officer is final and requesters will have to revert to external remedies at their disposal if the request for the information is refused and the requester is not satisfied with the response supplied by the Information Officer.

9.2 External Remedies

9.2.1 Should the requester not be satisfied with the decision of the Exponent Information Officer, the requester may within 30 days of notification of the decision apply to Court for relief. On hearing such an application the Court may grant a just and equitable order including the following:

- a) Confirming, amending or setting aside the decision that is the subject of the application.
- b) Requiring the Exponent Information Officer to take some action or to refrain from taking such action as the Court considers necessary within the period mentioned in the order.
- c) Granting an interdict, interim or specific relief, a declaratory order or compensation.
- d) Costs.

9.2.2 Likewise, a third party dissatisfied with an Information Officer's decision to grant a request for information, may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a court for relief.

9.3 If the request is for the record pertaining to a third party, the Information Officer must take all reasonable steps to inform the third party of the request. This must be done within 21 days of receipt of the request. The manner in which this is done must be by the fastest means reasonably possible, but if orally, the Information Officer must thereafter provide the third party a written confirmation of the notification. The requester must also be informed accordingly.

9.4 The third party may within 21 days thereafter either make a representation to Exponent as to why the request should be refused; alternatively grant written consent to the disclosure of the record.

10 AVAILABILITY OF THIS MANUAL

- 10.1 This manual is available for inspection at the offices of Exponent (Pty) Ltd as set out above free of charge.
- 10.2 Copies of the manual may be obtained, subject to payment of the prescribed fee at the offices of Exponent (Pty) Ltd above.
- 10.3 The manual can also be accessed on the Exponent (Pty) Ltd Web site at www.exponent.com.
- 10.4 The manual would also be published in the Government Gazette.
